

Every Scar Has a Story

Cody Johnson

I rode a horse named Whiskey, I thought I could trust
'Til she pinned her ears back and just like a whip crack she left me in the dust
I was cruisin' on my Harley, enjoyin' the breeze
I got hit head on and thrown, lord knows it should've killed me

Every scar has a story, and it leaves its mark
Guess you could say I'm the king of takin' things way too far
I thought I knew pain, ain't nothin' I ain't been through
But when I met you, girl, I fell hard
Every scar has a story, just ask my heart

I remember that mornin', I saw your face
Turnin' down a side street, somethin' inside me said don't let her get away
And those nights that followed, they still haunt me
Cause they were some of the best, I'll never forget how good it used to be

Every scar has a story, and it leaves its mark
Guess you could say I'm the king of takin' things way too far
I thought I knew pain, ain't nothin' I ain't been through
But when I met you, girl, I fell hard
Every scar has a story, just ask my heart

They say old wounds heal with time and they get better
But the hurts you left on me will last forever

Every scar has a story, and it leaves its mark
Guess you could say I'm the king of takin' things way too far
I thought I knew pain ain't nothin' I ain't been through
But when I met you, girl, I fell hard
Every scar has a story, just ask my heart
Every scar has a story, just ask my heart
Just ask my heart