

Talk to Me Right

Cody Johnson

Well I came into this bar tonight
To drink myself away, that's no lie
Well I thought I'd wind up going home
But somehow you caught my eye
Yeah, now she's in bed at home alone
And I won't even start to tell you why
If you talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight

Yeah, and I love the chain around your heart
But sometimes it grows weak with time
And it's not like she's done something wrong
And that's what makes me wonder why
With two kids at home and a life that most would want
I guess I'm stuck between the lines
Oh baby, talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight

Who's to say what's wrong?
Who's to say what's right?
All I want to talk about is this feeling I'm seeing in your eyes
In the morning light we might wake up to find
That we never should have done
What we started underneath the neon lights
Oh baby, talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight

When I slipped that ring off my finger
I'll admit, I may have thought twice
It's a choice between your lovin' arms
And the ones at home that seem cold as ice
Yeah, you must be thinkin' to yourself
What kind of man would do this to his wife?
Oh baby, talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight

Who's to say what's wrong?
Who's to say what's right?
All I want to talk about is this feeling I'm seeing in your eyes
In the morning light we might wake up to find
That we never should have done
What we started underneath the neon lights
Oh baby, talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight
Oh baby, talk to me right
I might do something wrong tonight
