Four Walls

Cold Chisel

They're calling time for exercise Round her Majesty's hotel The maid'll hose the room out When I'm gone I never knew such luxury Before my verdict fell Four walls, washbasin, prison bed

Well the Bathurst riots ended When they clubbed the rebels down And in every congregation There was silence You can hear the Angels singin' When Christmas comes around Four walls, washbasin, prison bed

I love to march while some Nazi calls the time Who'd want to go home

I can't see I can't hear They've burnt out all the feeling I've never been so crazy And it's just my second year Four walls, washbasin, prison bed
