

Clear Skies

Cold Harbour

his mirror image won't go away.
but my heart and soul are here to stay.
staring into this mirror all i see is me.
but this isnt who i want to be.
this isnt time to look back.
walking in the background of others regret
. i will always remember when others forget.
mirror image, why won't you stop staring at me.
take me to that place by the sea
. but this isnt who i want to be.
this isnt who i thought i would turn out to be.
why bother my head with this stress.
nothing else really matters.
apart from me and you.
clear skies inside my mind.
cold nights reminding me this is real.
clear skies leaving no one behind.
these summer months seem surreal.
i didnt want to let you go.
she said infront of my eyes.
as silent whispers held my soul i begged the night sky to carr y me home.
CARRY ME HOME.
clear skies inside my mind. cold nights reminding me this is r eal. clear skies leaving no one behind.
these summer months seem so surreal.
