

Aren't you afraid of the consequences
Aren't you afraid of the casualties
I'm terrified that we think it's normal
Tearing apart who we think we know

Like animals we all attack
It's sudden death with no way back
This love for hate, hate for love
Is killing every chance we have to rise above

If we never endeavor
We'll always be a mess
Getting colder and colder
Forever distressed
Can't we all just learn to love and coexist

We're all the same when it comes to conflict
We're all to blame for the aftermath
So petrified of an equilibrium
When will we learn that enough's enough

Like animals we all attack
It's sudden death with no way back
This love for hate, hate for love
Is killing every chance we have to rise above

Is anyone out there listening?

If we never endeavor
We'll always be a mess
Getting colder and colder
Forever distressed
Can't we all just learn to love and coexist

Learn to love and coexist
Learn to love and coexist
Learn to love and coexist
Learn to love and coexist

We're going chapter by chapter
Writing rewriting disaster
We're falling faster and faster
Knowing there's only one answer
Tell me I'm insane to say this
Tell me you don't feel the same

If we never endeavor
We'll always be a mess
Getting colder and colder
Forever distressed
Cause we need this more than we had before
We can learn to love, we can end this war
Forever and ever together to coexist

Learn to love and coexist
Learn to love and coexist
