

Counterfeits & Lies

coldrain

Inside our tv screens, 7 days a week
There's someone every night that endlessly repeats
We've all got used to be, eating at our brain
We're going hollow (We're going hollow)
Everyday

When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll act to find the way to not go by
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright
When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll have to find a way to stay alive
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright

Inside our tv screens, 7 days a week
The time I'm in their range is to make us walk, talk and act li ke them
The show's called reality, but it's more like a joke to me
Tell me where did you leave your pride?
Let's take it back to how it used to be

When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll act to find the way to not go by
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright
When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll have to find a way to stay alive
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright

When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll act to find the way to not go by
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright
When this world is full of counterfeits and lies
We'll have to find a way to stay alive
'Cause this feeling deep inside is proof we still have time
To make it alright
