

Miss You

coldrain

I'm lying here, on a bed
My eyes are closed but I'm awake
I wished a dream, we never had
You still be next to me

I thought this would, be easier
I do my thing and this won't work
But now I'm here, and try to find a song to make this emptiness Disappear...

When all it is, is I miss you
As days go by, nights go long
You think I'll find a better song
But I'm still here
Trying to find a way to make this emptiness,
disappear...
But it still won't disappear

'Cause everywhere I go, you're always on my mind
But I just wish you would come in tonight
'Cause when I hear you're voice, it reminds me of the choice
I made to not always be by your side
And everytime you cry, you keep the pain inside
Leaving me with "everything's alright"
And now it's time to say, it's always time to say
I miss you

I miss you...

'Cause everywhere I go, you're always on my mind
But I just wish you would come in tonight
'Cause when I hear you're voice, it reminds me of the
I made to not always be by your side
And everytime you cry, you keep the pain inside
Leaving me with "everything's alright"
And now it's time to say, it's always time to say
I miss you

I miss you

I'm lying here, on a bed
My eyes are closed but I'm awake.
