

Finally Wrote A Song For You

Colin James

A woman with a warm heart
Her brown eyes would make my heart stop
I finally wrote a song for you.
My lover and my best friend
Together 'til the road ends
I finally wrote a song for you.

Just like the old folks say,
Well they say that real love
Don't come around everyday.
And from the moment you came my way
I knew I was meant for you,
And you were meant for me too.

I finally wrote a song for you
It's a long time overdue
After everything we've been through
(I finally wrote a song for you) I finally wrote it
I can't thank you enough
It's better late than never my love
I finally wrote a song for you.
(I finally wrote a song for you)

All the love and the pain
I'd do it all over again
I finally wrote a song for you.
You're my true love my shining light
My only star in the sacred night
I finally wrote a song for you.

And we'll show everybody how
Show 'em that real love
Never leaves any doubt
From this moment 'til the lights go out
Some things were meant to be
Some things like you and me

I finally wrote a song for you
It's a long time overdue
After everything we've been through
(I finally wrote a song for you) I finally wrote it
I can't thank you enough
It's better late than never my love
I finally wrote a song for you.
(I finally wrote a song for you)

I finally wrote a song for you
It's a long time overdue
After everything we've been through

(I finally wrote a song for you) I finally wrote it
I can't thank you enough
It's better late than never my love
I finally wrote a song for you.
(I finally wrote a song for you)
