

Inside your head
I'd stroll around in synthesis
And I'd find a way
To connect all things

To search and roam around
Take you far away
To search and roam around
Take you to another place

Inside your own illusion
I stroll around the passages
While I find a way
To connect all things

To search and roam around
Take you far away
To search and roam around
Take you to another place

So what I am dreaming of
What about you
So saturate
Tell me what can I find here
When you vanish in the air
I get caught in the rain
That falls in your doorway
Chance is all you need
You belong too
No wasting time
Overlook wrong decisions
Or my confirmations
So that I can be
