

So you thought you really were so cool
Every body smoked so why shouldn't you Relax and feel so smooth
The world were looking brighter now for you Skip reality and live in your dreams
It will soon become your worst nightmare
Take control of yourself, you know this can't go on Let this end before you find yourself a crackhead

Won't you wake up just one day to see the world without decay
Heal the feelings you have left, change your life, change your faith
Won't you make this true one day, let us all see you change
Raise your head up from the ground, if you don't fight
this now you'll die

I'm such a fool to think you would be listing to me
I thought you were that bright girl who could see The consequences this eill bring your needs
But I was wrong
Skip reality and live in your dreams
It will soon become your worst nightmare
Take control of yourself, you know this can't go on
Let this end before you find yourself a crackhead

Won't you wake up just one day, see the world without
decay
Heal the feelings you have left, change your life,
change your faith
Won't you make this true one day, let us all see you
change
Raise your head up from the ground, if you don't fight
this now you'll die