

Changes

Common

I'm the river that flow to the hood,
To the woods, to the birds, to the mud,
To the bricks over the curves,
To the forced bizarre got with 4 acres
And force with words,
Planted chrome for the young seeds to know, trees is blowing
We see change in the wind
This is new day and I gotta take it in, see a black man hero
We need him to win
Young eyes search search for a better tomorrow,
Let the belief lead the way and the angles halo,
Open doors for a hope for to go through,
Cause I would chose see and I'm supposed to.

(2x):

I know that change come come
The race begun, we're almost there oh yeah

I spoke like a child, I wrote like a child, I always smile,
Let my mind float like child.
Wishing I was smart as these kids are now,
All grown ups still wishing I'm a child again.
Church saw remind me to stay grateful, a more ? remind me to stay playful,
Day's go by, my life all high
I leave all my walks so the fight don't die, and me
I found the purpose why I'm MC
Inspire a young world to be greater than me.
I fall awake and a dream a song,
So the little shorty's could sing along.

(2x):

I know that change come come
The race begun, we're almost there oh yeah

Welcome children, welcome me
Your sentiments felt in me,
I see the future and the walk your path, don't let these fools take you off y our path.
Laugh if you need to, smile if you need to,
Life is a trip while a long and proceed to,
Try to believe to, do what you wanna do, remember you kings and queens are s till humble to,
Life is a bitch now need to look back again,
Victory can be claim while you still battling,
Drive along with the food I provided you,
To awaking the boy's that is inside you.

(2x):

I know that change come come
The race begun, we're almost there oh yeah

Change is avreble, you can't stop it, changes happening and Everybody is like.
Changes is like a furious hurricane that you can't stop
What is change? change is Martin Luther King Jr., Ghandi, Shakespeare, Tupac Shakur, Barack Obama,
And you can't forget Common,

Changes gonna happen, change is hope.
