Be yourself Be yourself so you won't fade out Keep yourself Keep yourself so you won't change at all Anyone in a crowd sees you fail to leave a definte scar Don't you hold back now See yourself See yourself as one turned 'round Free yourself Free yourself or turn back now Everyone in the crowd Seems to think you're the greatest of all... What if they found out? Anything that you say I don't know about it What you see what you're sayin' Just doesn't matter anymore Leave yourself Leave yourself time to get it right Keep yourself Be yourself make the red hot white Don't you hold back now Everyone's full of sparkle and charm How can you bow out?
