Ten Pins

The Connells

All alone, you sit by the hour You're waiting for the sun to rise In the night you sit by the fire You're waiting for the will to fight

But I won't see you there Ten pins down No I won't see you there Ten pins down

And you know that lines get me down I'm waiting for the sun to rise In the night we'll sit for awhile We're waiting for the will to fight

But I won't see you there Ten pins down No I won't see you there Ten pins down

Never needing to decide
There's always another lie-down
You don't seem to know
It's happening over and over

But I won't see you there Ten pins down No I won't see you there Ten pins down
