

Here's Looking At You Kid

Corey Crowder

I'll keep on drivin so we can talk a while
I know I could drive all night just to stay here with you
At the end the night well embrace and stare at the star filled
night
Would it be alright if we didn't say goodbye this time?

I'll wait and wonder when our next time will be I'll see you next week, hopefully
I wish it were sooner
At the end of our trip well embrace and stare at the star filled
night
Would it be alright if we didn't say goodbye this time?

Every time were away I feel a distance I can't take Watching you drive away, oh it kills me

I'll be alright
Have no worries
I'm just a bit over anxious
And maybe a little impatient
At the end of the night next time after we look at the star filled
night
Can we escape to a far away land where we will forever remain..
.
Living as one and walking hand in hand