

Thought I saw my future rising and then
I watched your eyes turned cold
I lost my faith in magic and through this World I walk alone
There's a trick of the light, sweet
Call on the wind
My master of pain and illusion walks in

Spirit of light, points a finger
Spirit of light, comes to saves us to
The temple of fools
The tower of sin
Spirit of light, points a finger
Spirit of light, comes to saves us to
The temple of fools
The tower of sin

Through the long dark days I wonder
No stars to light my way back home
I found no trace of angels
I curse the demons in my mind
There's a trick of the light, sweet
Call on the wind
My master of pain and illusion walks in

Spirit of light, points a finger
Spirit of light, comes to saves us to
The temple of fools
The tower of sin
Spirit of light, points a finger
Spirit of light, comes to saves us to
The temple of fools
Where we all meet again in the end
