

Prodigal

Corpus Christi

Rise up.
It's time to go home.
My child why are you weeping?
You have wallowed with the swine too long.
Since you left, I've been dreaming of the day you would return.

I would give my eyes just to see you walking down the road to home.

Come home.