

You Owe Me

Cows

I sold you what you needed You couldn't do without it Now you don't want to know me Don't want to talk about it

But you owe, you owe me You know, you know you owe me You'll never change How could you change?

I know what I latched onto And I know how it tore you Just come downtown to see me You know I'm always right there for you

Cuz you owe, you owe me You know, you know you owe me You'll never break You're starting to break

I saw you and him together I saw how he looks at you I saw you walk away Does he know what's eating at you?

You owe, you owe me You know, you know you owe me You'll never change How could you change?
