

Crash

Craig Armstrong

i crash into you
you crash into me
now everything around us
is darker than the dead of night

you crash into him
just to feel something
darker than the dead of night you have to be surrounded in beauty

'cause everything outside is so dull you know it might just come and get through to you (2x)

and i hit the floor
but i ask for more
so many little pieces you sweep me up and start again i crash into him

she has to be surrounded in beauty
'cause everything outside is so dull
(2x)

i crash into you
is darker the dead of night
