

Half a Face

Crash Kings

They say to live a good life
Regardless of the hell you have to pay
They do it for the faces
That show up each and every single day
We do it for the loving
It's always slow and steady wins the race
We do it for the ladies
Without them we'd be left without the face

When somebody is hurt, too
Someone else is doing just fine
As long as we keep searching we'll be alright

They tell take the money
For them it's not about anything else
They do it for the ego
And throwing punches punches right below the belt
We do it for the story
'Cause that's what all our heroes would suggest
We do it for the glory
Without it we'd be lost amongst the rest

When somebody is hurt, too
Someone else is doing just fine
As long as we keep searching we'll be alright

All this silence
It's in the air, it's what I swear can heal us
Timing patience
Won't be long before the day will come and save us
Save us

All this silence
It's in the air, it's what I swear can heal us
Timing patience
