

Shameless Little Monkeys

Crash Kings

Kids on a simple plan
Doesn't phase them from the outside looking in Straight, no attention span
Little monkeys in a straight line, oh, no sins

When you break it all down and mesmerize your eyes
In the end it's all barely justified

Shame, never any shame
And who is there to blame
For the simulation craze
Waste, no more time to waste
We'll give 'em just a taste
'Cause the world is like a disc that's on repeat

Go try and replicate
Let the eyes behind the camera show your skin
They whisper secretly
Little monkeys in a straight line, oh, no sins

When you break it all down and mesmerize your eyes
In the end it's all barely justified

Shame, never any shame
And who is there to blame
For the simulation craze
Waste, no more time to waste
We'll give 'em just a taste
'Cause the world is like a disc that's on repeat

When you break it all down and mesmerize your eyes
In the end it's all barely justified

Shame, never any shame
And who is there to blame
For the simulation craze
Waste, no more time to waste
We'll give 'em just a taste
'Cause that's high below your fingertips
Shame, never any shame
And who is there to blame
'Cause the world is like a disc that's on repeat
