Carpe Demon

Creature Feature

I have made a bleak discovery Something dark has possessed me Requires a host to be set free I must expel this entity

This has taken root inside my soul
As it slowly climbs a hole
How much longer 'til it takes control?
Now that it's found a brand new home

I'm worried my thoughts are not my own
I'm afraid they won't leave me alone
I fear I may soon be overthrown
Something is inhabiting my bones

Am I able to keep it at bay?
Will it devour me some day?
[?] through and I begin to fray
A guiding hand leading the stray

I'm worried my thoughts are not my own I'm afraid they won't leave me alone I fear I may soon be overthrown Something is inhabiting my bones

Bubbling under the surface Living on borrowed time Emerging from the shadows Burrowing through my mind Severing the connections Back up against the wall Destroying my defenses Too weak to even crawl

I'm worried my thoughts are not my own I'm afraid they won't leave me alone I fear I may soon be overthrown Something is inhabiting my bones
