

The Dogma of Chalcedon

Crimson Moonlight

Through the mist
Into the inner chambers of self
Caught up by fear
Desolated from malevolent absolution
Cut off from the tree of life Haunted by the golden swords
Polluted hands, clear of mind
Gnostic abomination, spiritual decapitation
Behold their faces as Janus
Ravishing in the form of diabloic positivism
Walking the path of fragmentation
Rebirth of ancient heresies

The face of Jesus
A new paradigm of valentinic dichotomy
In the shape of angels
Rejecting the dogma of Chalcedon
Condemning the consecration of worlds

One with sin, one with death
Incarnational recapitulation
One with sin, one with death
Devouring fire defleshed
One with sin, one with death
Archetype of rebellion
One with sin, one with death
Slaying death from Hades
Holding the keys of Hell
Unveiling the face of Jesus

From the womb of Theotokos
Ratifying the consecration of worlds
Walking the path of fragmentation, no more
Incarnational recapitulation
Reawakening of exegetical truths
Dualistic realm forever in ashes

One with sin, one with death
Incarnational recapitulation
One with sin, one with death
Unveiling the faces of Jesus