

Lost In You

Crossfaith

So if I'm alone and lost in you, then let me know
It's time to wash my hands of you cause everything was you

I can't be the same, cause my heart is sinking under all this weight
You won't be the same, don't you see the stars are falling?
(Stars are falling)

Still I see your reflection
I still see what I lost in you
Now I know that everything was you

Cause if I'm alone and lost in you, then let me know
It's time to wash my hands of you cause everything was you

I won't be the same, my scars are bleeding, holding on this pain
Do you bleed the same? Don't you see the stars have fallen?
(Stars have fallen down)

Still I see your reflection
I still see what I lost in you
Now I know that everything was you

Cause if I'm alone and lost in you, then let me know
It's time to wash my hands of you and these buried moments
Still I can not find the reason, I can't erase the memories
If I'm alone and lost in you, then everything was you

Still I see your reflection
I still see what I lost in you
Now I know that everything was you

So if I'm alone and lost in you, then let me know
It's time to wash my hands of you and these buried moments
Still I can not find the reason, I can't erase the memories
If I'm alone and lost in you, then everything was you
(Everything was you)