I Only Deal in Truth

So you've been judging me You need to feel my pain first You may not understand Just what it means to feel cursed I never lost my faith Although at times my hurt showed But now the past is done And I'm about to explode

I need to bury this Leave it burned alive I need to bury this

The time is growing near For you to bow down to me I only deal in truth Because a blind man can't see So who are you to judge You will remember my words And when you're proven wrong It will be my voice that's heard

I need to bury this, leave it burned alive I need to bury this, those who see me are blind I need to bury this, leave in burned alive I need to bury this, those who see me are blind

I only deal in truth, only deal in truth Those who see me are blind Crowbar
