

The Anchor

Crowder

For anyone battered
For any heart shattered
Anyone
Sinking down
Hold on
Hold on

For all of the sinners
For the weary and weathered
Thrown and tossed
Hope is lost
Hold on
Hold on

There's an anchor
In the rage of the storm
When the walls are closing in
In the darkness all alone
Just praying for the daylight
Peace for the soul
There is grace for the morning
When you feel like letting go
There's an anchor
There's an anchor

To all who have faltered
There is an altar
Bring your plea
On bended knee
Bow down
Bow down

All you sons and daughters
Run to the Father
You're not too far
From opened arms
Come home
Come home

There's an anchor
In the rage of the storm
When the walls are closing in
In the darkness all alone
Just praying for the daylight
Peace for the soul
There is grace for the morning
When you feel like letting go
There's an anchor
Whoa
There's an anchor
Whoa

Just a touch
You calm me
Just a whisper
You love me
Without judgement

You hold me
No one ever
Has known me
You made me

There's an anchor
Holding time in His hands
A rock you can stand on
Mercy without end
Love that's eternal
That bore all of our sin
A king that is coming
The great I AM
He is the anchor
Woah
He is the anchor
Woah
He is the anchor
Of my soul

He is the anchor
He is the anchor
Of my soul

He is the anchor