

Flying over the Snowy Fields

Cryonic Temple

Far away, at the ancient city
Born and raised as a mighty soldier
There she was, the warriors' princess
Born to be enemies, born to raise hell
There we met, there we fought
There we bleed, there we cried
Then she said with a smile, catch me if you can!

She makes me feel alive, spread my wings, ready to fly
Discovering the secrets of life, without the rain there's no rainbow

Never let me go, with you I'm alive
Flying higher, over the snowy fields
Never let me go, with you I'm alive
Flying higher, over the snowy fields

Once enemies were fuelled by hate, now lovers divide by wars
Lost in life, lost in time
Then I search for her every where
There's a price to be free, there's a choice to be alive
I found her smiling; will you fly with me?

She makes me feel alive, spread my wings, ready to fly
Discovering the secrets of life, without the rain there's no rainbow

Never let me go, with you I'm alive
Flying higher, over the snowy fields

She makes me feel alive, spread my wings, ready to fly
Discovering the secrets of life, without the rain there's no rainbow

Never let me go, with you I'm alive
Flying higher, over the snowy fields
Never let me go, with you I'm alive
Flying higher, over the snowy fields
