

Freedom

Cryonic Temple

When everything is silent, and you see the stars behind you fade

The fight is finally over, and the universe is at peace again

Take your friends and head on home

See your family, the once that you hold dear

Never again we should fight for freedom, it's all over at last

Ashes to ashes, I will fight for her

As the phoenix; we will rise, again

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

I said freedom, she's calling my name

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

Freedom

Beneath the dying star, we thought to save those in despair and fear

I was far away from home, hoping to return someday

I was supposed to save the world, all alone in this agony called life

In my darkest hour she saved me

For her I'm willing to sacrifice myself

Ashes to ashes I will fight for her

As the phoenix; we will rise, again

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

I said freedom, she's calling my name

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

Freedom

Ashes to ashes, I will fight for her

As the phoenix; we will rise, again

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

I said freedom, she's calling my name

Freedom, I hear them calling my name

Freedom

Freedom is calling your name

Freedom is calling your name

Freedom is calling your name

Freedom
