

Stare at the Sun

Crystal Ball

Tomorrow - I'll forget all about the past
I've been an outcast
I tried to stay but time was changing fast

Together - together we stood in the rain
You held my hand again
A gust of wind blown and then you said to me:

Stare at the sun
Bound to the sky
The world will sink in silence
For a while

The hammer - the hammer of hate was my faith
With no aggression
And many things will turn into good

And higher - and higher than the sky
So let me fly
A flash of light will bring me to my goal

Stare at the sun
Bound to the sky
The world will sink in silence
For a while

Tonight - I will reach for the stars
I will ride on the sparks
A light will rise in my heart

It's hard to change - different things
But take the chance to extract the tension

Stare at the sun
Bound to the sky
The world will sink in silence
For a while

Tonight - I will reach for the stars
I will ride on the sparks
A light will rise in my heart

Stare at the sun
Bound to the sky
The world will sink in silence
For a while

Tonight - I will reach for the stars
I will ride on the sparks
A light will rise in my heart

Stare at the sun
Bound to the sky
The world will sink in silence
For a while
