

Rise Above

Cuff the Duke

In the angel's crystal light then we stroll in the sand
I'll be starin at the star, not the end
And once you cross the line you'll begin to understand
Somehow it all makes sense
Where you going? Is it where you've been?

I hear whispers and mumbles of how we used to be
But I never can accept all I hear
And I'll focus on the future cause the past is for the dead
Truth is the lie we choose
It's something that we all have to do

I fucked er off the din, didn't give it away
I change the color and I live in shapes
So in the dark we finalize
And we will rise above
It's in the light, we both survive
And we will rise above

I've got everything to lose
But I've got more than enough
And I've sorted out the reasons to trust
If I sit down to admire then I've stopped before the end
Somehow to fly back through
It's easier to take then offend

I fucked er off the din, didn't give it away
I change the color and I live in shapes
So in the dark we finalize
And we will rise above
It's in the light, we both survive
And we will rise above

So in the dark we finalize
And we will rise above
It's in the light, we both survive
And we will rise above

And we will rise above
And we will rise above
