How To Act

There's only one way to act When you're dealing with fools You stab them in the back And break all their rules There's only one way to be When you're making it with she You've got to play a role And you've got to make it seem like love