

The Moon Exalted

Damon Albarn

To love another,
Would it mean my heart
Let it never be supposed to try
Would alienate the soul
Or that I would change my resolve
For anything known
I love..
Let it moves
And relate to the bride
Let by love record
The silent cause of love

Do not think that I incline to My loyalty word gone
Ways coming down
It's a powerful thing
The morning I awoke to find you gone
The moon was rising higher than the sun
Until all of us, it's a powerful thing

In my book of thoughts
I have found return on my heart
The true history, of the sadness that I start
Illuminated, only by tears
as someone you live
Lay by my side until the light, appears
In the far fall of night I'd fall asleep
An angel came to me
And she warned me, of the battle I would have to take
Illuminated, only by tears
as someone you live
Lay by my side until the light, appears.
