

Downloadable content's a load of nonsense I won't give them one cent it wouldn't be conscientious encouraging dodgy ventures like when you've been robbed do you get your property straight back from the fences?
I want to know what the defence is hence this musical census pay attention to community consensus to prevent this backlash of hashtags and truly contentious lambasts, eg: I hope you're shoving your Prothean up your fallopean No wonder the planet's becoming dystopian draconian Napoleons invoking pandemonium and I might be blowing my own euphonium by quoting this but I know I'm not the only one that's pissed My data's trapped inside the disc sat in lines of script and I have to pay to take it out what kind of shit is this?

It's the DLC PLC
where we make money selling people things that were free Welcome to the DLC PLC where we charge you for things you bought previously

No need to be dishonest the incompleated product's a piece of bollocks so please give me the pieces of it and leave my wallet, I need the dollars but don't be extremely bothered I'll probably buy the sequel of it cos that's the key the reason it keeps on happening, it's obvious If you pay them quids they take the piss and get away with it until they're pinching all your paper like a paperclip and what would our forefathers have thought of horse armour?
It's all rather an awful palava Perhaps I should make a call and talk to Obama You're causing drama and according to the laws of karma Stir the water, sure enough of course you'll taunt the poor piranhas so try to pull my jaws apart I'm sure you can't I'm sinking my teeth into the greed inherently buried in DLC things Hidden fees and prices surprising me like bee stings is it any wonder we punters are seething
