

I Love Living in the City

Danko Jones

Busted the safe stole the key to the city
Made out with your sister, the one I think is pretty
I think you're cool but you're acting kinda silly
Don't want your girl man she's too damn ugly

I went down south, but I left in a minute
You said it was kickin' but you was only shittin'
I love the girls but the girls get crazy
I always wonder why but then I meet the Mommy

I..love..living..living in the city
I..love..living..living in the city

Yeah
You try it

You got the shakes but I like the way your movin'
You want a lucky break but you need more improvin'
I like the way you copped your stuff from Sticky Fingers
I'd compliment you but your head keeps getting bigger

I take the sidestreets to avoid a confrontation
I think I'm out of step like Minor Threat, baby
You look me up and down while standing in line
You got a lot of attitude for someone going out of style

I..love..living..living in the city
I..love..living..living in the city
Oh yeah, alright, feels good, all night

I love living in the city
I love living in the city
I love living in the city
I love living in the city

I..love..living..living in the city
I..love..living..living in the city
I..love..living..living in the city
I..love..living..living in the city
