

Love And Affection

Dannii Minogue

I had to look 'cos you were looking at me
Could this be true or maybe just a fantasy
You walked right by me but had nothing to say
How could you know that you've taken my breath away?
Now I can make you feel like no one else can
Just use your imagination
It's clear to see we could be woman and man

But take it from me that
If you want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction
Want my love and affection
Make a move right now
If you want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction
Want my love and affection
Make a move right now

Surrounded by pieces and illusions that fade
But don't you know when it's fate never hesitate
So when you turned and I look into your eyes
It's plain to see we're the same and I realize
The devil's feeling something we couldn't plan
This future will fascination
It's clear to see we could be woman and man

But take it from me that
If you want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction
Want my love and affection
Make a move right now
If you want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction
Want my love and affection
Make a move right now

Want my love, love, want my love
Want my love, love, want my love
Want my love and affection?
Want my love and affection?
Want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction

Want my love and affection
Make a move right now
Want my love and affection
Make a move in the right direction
Want my love and affection
Make a move right now

Want my love, love, want my love
Want my love, want want want it, want my love
Want my love, love, want my love
Want my love, love, want my love
