

Together Some Day

Danny Saucedo

I wanna tell you that this is forever
Even here and now I'm drowning in your eyes
You're like a storm that carries a feather
That keeps me on and on until my love lies blind

I've found the one.
If only I could break out of my own desire
Your love has cast a spell on me

What if I could really hold you
What if love was mine to show you
What if all the things I feel could bring us together
Together someday, bring us
Together someday, bring us together some day

I feel a force that is stronger than ever
Even here and now you love me like your mine
You have a kiss that is shown to be clever
It keeps me on and on and praying for that time,
For that time

If I could walk if I could run
And break out on my own I would
But you're the air that I breath

What if I could really hold you
What if love was mine to show you
What if all the things I feel could bring us together
Together someday, bring us
Together someday, bring us together some day

Have I lost my control
Have I given away my soul
I live for you, die for you now

What if I could really hold you
What if love was mine to show you
What if all the things I feel could bring us together together

What if I could really hold you
What if love was mine to show you
What if all the things I feel could bring us together
Together someday, bring us
Together someday, bring us together some day
