

When 1000 Crypts Awake

Dark Fortress

Cold, my heart
Raped by the descendants of light
Embittered my soul
Drowned in a flood of desperate views

It feels like
I have walked this earth
For a thousand years,
My breath so heavy,
My tears in vain

Hypnos embraces me
The dead caress my sleep once more
I gaze at one single shining star,
That shows me the way
To a distant crypt, to my grave I am yearning for

When thousand crypts awake,
You can hear them calling for me
When thousand souls are lost
The winds whisper a tragedy
Of one single soul,
That reached infinity
