

you're waiting for the gates to be raised when you walk through your life will change
time after evil
hour after fear
it's the moment in life when souls unite
...souls will unite
when you close your eyes
souls will unite
then the sun will rise summer's might

i will give you the key open the gate to me
the sun will rise
let our souls unite

emptiness is driving you tunnels you are wandering through your thoughts will set you free from your private misery i want you to see my world i will wait for you within you will walk on flowered dreams mile after mile someday the sun will warm your face and heat your soul when you sit happily in the sand and unite with the stars