

Save My Sight

Darkwell

Watch this time, a piece of mind never see the shine of light watching this sadness, makes you blind never realize this mournful sight

Your not one, you must be more an owner of another shattered mind watching the sadness reach the floor it's the awareness you won't find

I feel the burden inside my head, I feel the burden inside my mind feel the burden it's overwhelming me it is time to save my sight

Watch your mind a misty gray black and white agonizing dark reign no winner arises of this sway remedy lies futile, break the chain

Save my sight and save my heart delusions guide the way save my sight and save what's real reality repays
