

No More Tears to Cry

Darude

T was a cold night in the heat of September
Something I don't wanna remember seeing in your eyes
I can feel it now as you burn right through me
'Cause your fire keeps lingering through my life
So I waved goodbye to everything I ever knowed
'Cause the price of your love was just too high
So I waved goodbye to your pouring rain and
Taking back my life again from your grips tonight

No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry

So I waved goodbye to your pouring rain and
Taking back my life again from your grips tonight

No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
No more tears to cry
