Fistful Of Ashes

Darzamat

So the eyes of fire phantom created from awesome magic

- I have hatred that flies high on the dusk's wings
- I have scarlet cloak that protects me from the light
- I have misty phantoms in a white incense smoke
- I have temptations driven away from god's garden

From this stone that touches my consciousness I shall make a fi stul of ashes

- I have immortal might that bursts so rapidly
- I have madness that caresses mind and body
- I have memories that burn with their redness
- I have dreams that burn with no relief

Madness memories dreams Hatred memories dreams

From this flame that burned for me into the night I shall vanish From the passion I shall vanish from the passion From the passion from the passion

- I have awareness that distorts my face deriding
- I have uncalmed sorrow in endless complaint
- I have grief in silent cry of universe
- I have curse that kills with icy dagger
