Dm C B C B С Dm Feeling like this could only mean C-B I'm sinking. Feeling like this could only mean I'm sinking. Well, I'm sinking. Pull me up. Dm Every time I see your clothes scattered out on the floor, I say I thought you would be home. You said you never would be gone. Every time I see the light not burning on the porch, I say I thought you would be home. You said you never would be gone, $\mathtt{Dm}\text{-}\mathtt{C}\text{-}\mathtt{B}\text{-}\mathtt{C}$ But you are. Dm-C-BYou are. Feeling overwhelmed, I take a dive To a once overfilled but now empty place to hide. The day you turned on me is the day I died, And I've forgotten what it's like, And how it feels to be alive. Every time I see your clothes scattered out on the floor, I say I thought you would be home. You said you never would be gone. Every time I see the light not burning on the porch, I say I thought you would be home.

You said you never would be gone,

Dm-C-B-C
But you are.

```
Dm-C-B
```

You are.

Dm C B C B

Dm B

Reach up to the sky.

С

When nothing seems to go right,

в

When nothing seems to go right for me.

Dm 1

Every time I see your clothes scattered out on the floor,

С

I say I thought you would be home.

В

You said you never would be gone.

Dm E

Every time I see the light not burning on the porch,

C

I say I thought you would be home.

В

You said you never would be gone,

 $\mathtt{Dm}\text{-}\mathtt{C}\text{-}\mathtt{B}\text{-}\mathtt{C}$

But you are.

Dm-C-B

You are.