

By Two

Dave Barnes

You and I, here we are.
Still a fire from just a spark.
I reminisce with every single kiss.
Back to the start.

No matter how much I try.
It's still hard to say good night.
Another word or two is all I want from you.
Just leave on the light.

Cause all I do, I wanna do by two.

God only knows the road and the miles we have yet to go.
Bridges that we'll burn, lessons we will learn, the stories we sow.
With you here by my side and your pretty little hand in mine.
We're just a boy and girl up against the world.
Coming out fine.

All I do, I wanna do by two.

I don't wanna fall asleep without you.
I don't want a day without you close.
Our hearts and hands will always be the closest of company.
Best believe, I'll never let you go.

Someday when it's all through, they'll bury me there by you.
I'll be smiling underground.
Gone and heaven bound, Lord, it's true.
Cause I got to do, what I got to do, with you by two.
