Tell Her You Do

Dave Barnes

Boy you know better than thinkin' she reads your mind No matter the crumbs and the clues oh that you leave behind

You're hard to believe I swear she'll believe if it's true Oooh ooh ooh just tell her you do

Those hurricane kisses are missing the mark that you made The forest of flowers can't tell her what you want to say

She's wondering something Her eyes are the first to accuse Ooh ooh ooh just tell her you do

Your world is the fire she's the flame And you know her heart feels the same

The windows are open

She glows in the light of the moon

Her every word is a verse and oh you know the tune

Don't keep her waiting
Bravery favors the fool
Ooh ooh ooh just tell her you do
