

One More Night

Dave Edmunds

I'm too tired to stand up,
I'm too drunk to sleep,
don't know how I'm gonna get home

I've said all my goodbyes, I'm trying to keep,
I'm spending evening alone

The cold hits my face, as a stood more outside

You kiss me so casually, that i couldn't cry

You smiled at me nicely, from the dark above the stairs,

And i walked out quickly, as tho the shoes i didn't care

And i miss you at the door
when i forget my keys

And i wish you'd come back
I'm down on my knees

It all seems such a shame
Cause i still see your line

And i wish i could come back and stay one more night

As i start walking
My head starts to fall

When i think what I'm leaving behind Now the party is over I've nowhere to stay
I can rest ..well she is on my mind

And i miss you at the door
when i forget my keys

And i wish you'd come back
I'm down on my knees

It all seems such a shame
Cause i still see your line

And i wish i could come back

and stay one more night
