

Sight and Sound

David Gates

Oh, the sweetest sight in the world
Is a body, somebody in love
And the sweetest night in the world
Is when you find the one you're dreaming of

Oh, let me know your mind and body can't wait
We just got to go and celebrate
And it's sweetest night in the world

Oh, the sweetest sound that you make
Nobody hears it, no one but me
And the sweetest silence you bring
Is when the early morning starts to break

Then the sunlight comes and sets the night free
Lord I sometimes can't believe what I see
It's the sweetest sight in the world
Better believe it, you better believe

Then the sunlight comes and sets the night free
Lord I sometimes can't believe what I see
It's the sweetest sight in the world
That my eyes have ever seen
You make the sweetest sounds in the world
That my ears have ever heard

It's crazy baby!
You make the sweetest sounds in the world
Yes you do, yes you do
