I remember the day you came into my life. I remember how time stood still.
You were my lover, my friend, my joy.
You were my life.
I loved you then and I always will.

How time has its way with things, And all the changes it brings, baby.

If I could only say goodbye.
There will always be a part of me for you.
If I could find the reason why.
If I could only say goodbye.

I remember the day you walked out of my life; Thought the sorrow would never end. Then the tears came, and all the joy Was out of my life. Felt the heartbreak would never mend.

Seems times like a stormy sea.

Look what it's done to you and me, baby.

If I could only say goodbye.
There will always be a part of me for you.
If I could find the reason why.
If I could only say goodbye.

Did we ever live a lie? Could I ever call you my friend? Will you always be a part of me? How can real love ever end?

If I could only say goodbye.
There will always be a part of me for you.
If I could find the reason why.
If I could only say goodbye.

If I could only say goodbye.
I know the love will never die.
If I could only say goodbye.
