

Turn Off the Light

David Hodges

Staring into space-
I'm on the verge of tears.
You are on the other side of the room-
We both feel out of place.
But we're gonna stay right here-
And I wish we could rewind,
But we can't go back in time.

And I'm just too tired to fight-
Can we let this go tonight?
For now let's let our two wrongs be alright.
Just turn off the light, ohh.

It started out so small-
Somehow spun out of control.
Another mystery of misunderstood.
And I know we are both at fault-
It doesn't need to be retold.
And I wish we could erase-
What we never meant to say.

I'm just too tired to fight-
Can we let this go tonight?
For now let's let our two wrongs be alright.
Just turn off the light, ohh.
Just too tired to fight, ohh.

I'm just too tired to fight-
Can we let this go tonight?
For now let's let our two wrongs be alright.
Just turn off the light, ohh.
Ohh, ohh.
