

This Time Around

David Nail

I know what you think, here we go again
The same waste of potential that I've always been
I've been given chances and I've burned some bridges up
Had a million excuses why I'd self-destruct

But this time around
I'm a little more ready now
I'm a little bit older, a little more figured out
This time around

I see what I want and I've had a taste
I'm aware of the sacrifice its gonna take
I ain't afraid of failure 'cause I ain't supposed to win
It took a while to find it, but I'm back again

But this time around
I'm a little more ready now
I'm a little bit older, a little more figured out
This time around

Yeah, this time around
I'm a little more ready now
I'm a little bit older, a little more figured out

Yeah, this time around
I'm a little more ready now
I'm a little bit older, a little more figured out
This time around

Yeah, this time around
This time around
