Oh is that my face in the mirror? 'Cause is taken from my own actions Boats are stuck inside the little pond Cold is what I feel in every bone

Hey there, my dear loneliness I heard that you came and stayed

Roam with all the fire from your soul Love has locked you up inside a box Stones are lighter than each of our moans Block your inner sense to be involved

I`ve shed a tear for my best friend Trapped here with nothing more but regret Please check on me every now and then Help me to change into somebody else
