Dawid Podsiadło

I'm the most little innocent liar you have known Though you're giving me a whole lot of your love I can feel, I can almost feel that I'm there Touching the gate of your mind telling you I'm bad

And I just want you to know, know, know, know You are too kind to be fooled like that That's why I will be honest, love, my love, love, love You deserve to meet a better man

I'm a crook, I'm a fraud, I'm a shark, a deceiver While you're sweet and you're good all the beauty you deliver I will only break your heart Like I did it in the past

That's why I want you to know, know, know, know You should realize who I really am I really mean it's real love, love I told you so you could finally see

And I'm on the street again the only place Which welcomes me with open arms and gives me warm farewells I think it's time for me to be a decent man Well, hello girl, I'd like to know what is your name?

I don't want you to know, know, know, know You have just been caught into the sweetest trap I'm afraid that I can't let you go, go, go, go, go, go, go Until I feel bad 'bout lying again

No